2 years ago

Polyteck, a leading construction and facilities management firm, has been selected to participate in the Communities & Housing Investment Consortium's (CHIC) four-year framework for kitchen and bathroom renewals.

This selection continues Polyteck's tradition of contributing to major refurbishment projects across the UK.

The CHIC framework is designed to assist members in upgrading kitchens and bathrooms that have reached the end of their life cycles, ensuring that housing stock remains in top condition.

As part of this framework, Polyteck will deliver a comprehensive range of services, including the repair, maintenance, supply, and installation of kitchens, bathrooms, wet rooms, and toilets. The company will also manage related tasks such as electrical work, facility extraction, material and debris removal, structural alterations, and the installation of new units. Upon completion, each project will undergo rigorous testing and certification to ensure compliance with all relevant legislation and standards.

CHIC, a not-for-profit, member-owned, and governed asset management consortium, provides extensive services to members in the affordable housing sector, public sector bodies, and charities. Through its procurement and contract support solutions, CHIC aims to deliver cost savings, efficiencies, and added social value. The consortium, with over 280 members, supports the management and improvement of more than 3.2 million homes across the UK.

John Polycarpou at Polyteck, commented: "We are proud to be included in CHIC's four-year kitchen and bathroom renewals framework. This selection underscores our commitment to quality and dependable service."

Earlier this year, Polyteck was also named as one of the ten suppliers for Fusion21's £346 million, four-year Building Improvements Framework renewal.
