

EV Charger Manufacturer V.Go Partners with Radius Charge EV Solutions

2 years ago

V.Go, the energy products line of Verve Connect, who are a key supplier to major UK telecom networks, has announced a strategic partnership with Radius Charge, a leading EV charging solutions provider with a strong local presence and national reach across the UK. This collaboration offers a “one-stop shop” for customers seeking high-quality EV chargers paired with professional installation and support for homes, SMEs, and enterprises.

V.Go’s newly launched range of home, workplace, and commercial EV chargers will now be integrated into Radius Charge’s portfolio, enabling seamless solutions for various customer needs, from simple installations to direct payment options and integration with a wide array of software platforms.

Renowned for its engineering expertise, V.Go of Verve Connect is committed to providing reliable products and exceptional customer support. Through this partnership, Radius Charge and V.Go will ensure chargers are installed and supported from order placement to ongoing maintenance, offering customers peace of mind with robust product guarantees.

Chris Edwards, Chief Commercial Officer at V.Go, Verve Connect, said: “Partnering with Radius Charge allows us to focus on developing best-in-class charging hardware that prioritises customer needs. Radius Charge complements this by delivering high-quality, professional installation services at competitive prices.”

Chris Everitt, Partnerships Director from Radius Charge added: “We’re excited to partner with a company like V.Go, which has a strong engineering and technology heritage. Together, we aim to deliver a superior customer experience by combining V.Go’s reliable products with our trusted installation and support services. EV drivers should have the confidence to choose the charge point that suits them, knowing it's backed by solid expertise from both the manufacturer and installer."

Edwards added: "This partnership marks an exciting phase for V.Go as we expand operations and collaborate with key businesses. With Radius Charge's expertise and support, we're confident our EV chargers will be installed correctly and deliver a class-leading, end-to-end customer experience. Our UK technical team, locally managed EV charger stock and efficient supply chain are ready to support this initiative."

This partnership underlines a shared business value and commitment to advancing the UK's EV infrastructure, ensuring accessible, reliable, and innovative charging solutions for a growing market.
