1 year ago

Green Zone Surveys, one of the UK's leading providers of building compliance and energy assessment services, has announced its acquisition of Enviroduct, a prominent ductwork cleaning and ventilation company.

The strategic move marks a significant milestone in Green Zone Surveys' growth — increasing the company's workforce and profit, while enhancing its service offering in the TR-19 market.

Enviroduct, established in 2015, is one of the largest ductwork cleaning companies in the Northern region with operations spanning the UK.

The company specialises in TR-19 grease extraction cleaning, ventilation cleaning to BSEN 15780 standards, fire damper testing, deep cleaning of commercial kitchens and other compliance-related services.

Green Zone Surveys and Enviroduct have previously collaborated and this acquisition enables the former to strengthen its current TR19 offering, expand its service portfolio, widen its geographical reach and drive new business opportunities.

Hailing the acquisition, Callum Thompson, CEO of Green Zone Surveys, said: "Bringing Enviroduct into the Green Zone group is an exciting step forward.

"Their established reputation in the TR-19 market complements our existing services and their team's expertise aligns perfectly with our own commitment to providing best-in-class compliance solutions.

“This acquisition strengthens our position as a national leader in building compliance, enhances our customer offering and accelerates our growth trajectory.”

The integration will see Enviroduct retain its brand identity for the foreseeable future, with a co-branded approach to leverage both firms’ established market presence.

Ben Walker, Enviroduct’s Managing Director, will remain in his role, ensuring continuity for both clients and staff.

Speaking on the acquisition, he said: “Joining Green Zone Surveys marks a new chapter for Enviroduct.

“We’ve built a strong partnership over the years and have a strongly aligned vision of how to scale the operation, complementing our diverse skills based in building compliance services.

“As part of Green Zone Surveys, we’re perfectly positioned to deliver unrivalled expertise and value in the TR-19 and ventilation compliance markets.”

The acquisition boosts Green Zone Surveys’ workforce, significantly increases operational capacity and opens new cross-selling opportunities.

The combined client portfolio spans the hospitality, retail, and public sectors, with major clients including national fast-food outlets and local education authorities.

This acquisition reinforces Green Zone Surveys’ strategy to enhance its in-house capabilities, expand its client footprint and establish a stronger foothold in the TR-19 market — a critical compliance area for commercial kitchens and ventilation systems.
