Novus Property Solutions has announced the creation of up to 30 roles across the North West of England following a period of growth within the region.

The company is looking to fill a number of permanent roles in the coming months across Merseyside, Cheshire, Greater Manchester and Cumbria. The positions include quantity surveyors, helpdesk planners and multi-trade roles with start dates from February 2025.

Commenting on this latest recruitment drive, Novus Executive Director, Steve Gayter, said: "Following a period of further expanding our presence in the North West through a series of contract wins, we're proud to announce the creation of up to 30 roles across the region.

"Our launch of multiple new permanent roles in the North West closely follows a successful recent recruitment drive in the South West, as our reputation continues to grow throughout Great Britain. We remain a family business at heart, and we're committed to giving back to the communities we work in through local employment and establishing local supply chain partners."
