Premier Technical Services Group Ltd (PTSG), via constituent company HCS Water Treatment (HCS), has been contracted to support Raigmore Hospital with specialist water treatment services.

Raigmore Hospital is a health facility located in Inverness, Scotland. It serves patients from the local area as well as providing specialist services to patients from across the Highland area.

Managed by NHS Highland, it is a teaching hospital, educating a range of healthcare professionals in association with the Universities of Aberdeen and Stirling. There are 452 beds in the hospital, mostly in the 8-storey tower building. The hospital has 9 operating theatres.
