

Spectrum Services Solutions' new cleaning contract at Booth Welsh, Irvine, is underway

6 months ago

Spectrum Services Solutions has another new contract to announce, this time in Irvine with Booth Welsh, the long-established and highly respected engineering technology company. They will be supporting them with office cleaning at their impressive facility in Ayrshire.

Booth Welsh is an Ayrshire-based business with a true international reach, working on projects across the globe in industries such as Pharmaceuticals & Life Sciences, Food & Beverage, Nuclear and Renewables. Booth Welsh has 35 years of experience in engineering and multi-discipline capabilities in areas such as Process Control, Panel Design & Build, Functional Safety and Electrical Control & Instrumentation. Once again, we are delighted to be working with a pioneering business operating on the global stage.

Spectrum's Operations Director, Rebecca Bell, commented on the new contract, saying: "Any new contract win is always welcome; however, it's the quality of businesses we're attracting that is very pleasing; Booth Welsh is yet another industry leader with clients all over the world. So, we are naturally delighted that they have chosen Spectrum to look after the cleaning in Irvine."
