"Pat Cauthery has led our aerospace and defence teams for many years during a UKEF career which spans over 30 years. Whether it's our support overseas or working to support some of the country's biggest exporters and employers, Pat has helped ensure that our financing has been instrumental in enabling export growth in these key sectors."

Also recognised in The List is the work of former UKEF CEO David Louis Taylor, now CEO of the British Business Bank, who has been awarded an CBE for services to Business and Trade.
