

Wates Property Services appoints new FM Managing Director

1 year ago

Wates has appointed Jack Prady as the new Managing Director of its facilities management business.

Alongside Jack, the hard FM provider also recently welcomed Mark Wiles to the role of Business Development and Work Winning Director. Jack and Mark's appointments are part of a broader effort to bolster the company's leadership team as the business celebrates another successive year of growth.

Jack brings a wealth of experience and expertise to Wates, having held leadership positions across the facilities management and built environment sectors for the past 18 years. With a proven ability to lead teams, implement strategic initiatives and drive business optimisation, Jack will be critical in guiding the business through its next phase of growth.

Alongside the wider facilities management leadership team, Jack and Mark will be responsible for delivering ambitious growth plans by strengthening customer relationships and growing the business in current and new markets. They will also play a key role in supporting Wates' commitment to helping customers achieve net zero carbon objectives through energy management and optimisation.

David Morgan, Executive Managing Director, Wates Property Services, said: "Jack and Mark both have incredible track records in developing strong customer relationships and delivering operational excellence, and this fits perfectly with our vision for growth in the future."

Jack Prady, the new Managing Director for Wates' facilities management business, said: "I'm thrilled to be joining Wates at a time when the business has so much opportunity ahead. My focus will be to harness that by continuing to develop the right culture to deliver an outstanding service and make a positive impact for our customers and communities.”
