

Let Thomann-Hanry® show your building some love this Valentine's Day

7 months ago

Forget the romantic flowers, forgo the candlelit dinner, and shun that elaborately decorated box of exquisite chocolates, as all your building really wants this Valentine's Day (Friday 14th February – just in case you've forgotten) is for you to book it a façade clean from industry stalwarts Thomann-Hanry®.

Keeping your building's façade looking its best as part of a regular building maintenance programme is the perfect way to show your building some much needed love. A clean façade also helps to present your building and business in a more favourable light and can help to encourage new customers/clients.

Scaffold Free Delight

Unlike a traditional façade clean which requires the need to encase the building in unsightly, intrusive, and costly scaffolding, Thomann-Hanry®'s 'façade gommage®' system offers a convenient and effective method to gently remove dirt and grime without the need to scaffold.

Ultrafine particles of chemically inert Aluminium Silicate are projected under low pressure from a vacuum cabin mounted on a hydraulic boom. The powder gently rubs away the build-up of dirt and grime, to reveal the pristine surface below. The used powder is then sucked back into the cabin, where it is captured in a water curtain before being filtered and recycled.

The fully mobile platform also allows for a façade clean which can be conducted at a time which is convenient to you and your business, with out of standard business hours, weekend, and bank holiday cleaning all an option. With no scaffolding used, this can result in your day-to-day operations not being impeded by unsightly scaffolding and construction debris.

Revived and Refreshed

With the process being ideally suited to all types of stone, render, and brick façades on both historic and modern commercial buildings; the team at Thomann-Hanry® have been able to clean the façades of some of the most prestigious buildings across the UK and beyond. Key properties have included The Ritz, Bank of England, The Beaumont Hotel, Somerset House, The Langham, The Dorchester Hotel, and The Berkeley Hotel.

“We have been pioneers of scaffold-free, dry, non-abrasive façade cleaning in the UK for almost 20 years.” Commented Mark Styles, Managing Director of Thomann-Hanry® “We have developed a deep understand as to the best ways to revive and refresh a dirty and tired looking façade, with minimal disruption to those visiting or working within the building. As our cleaning system required no scaffolding, it allows for a faster and more cost effective clean, than other more traditional cleaning methods.”
