

Lexington become two-time winners at The Restaurant Marketer and Innovator Awards 2025

2 months ago

Lexington has shared the news of their two-time win at the Restaurant Marketer and Innovator Awards. The Lexington team took home the 'Best Community or Charitable Initiative' 2025 award for the Green Force – their employee-led programme that supports social and environmental value within local communities and at site-level.

The Green Force initiative has now grown into a network of 170+ passionate champions across the Lexington Reception Services, Lexington Independents, and B&I catering divisions, driving meaningful social and environmental impact within their client sites and surrounding communities.

Through the Green Force, the company is building a culture of sustainability and social responsibility, empowering their teams to lead positive, tangible change. Its grass-roots approach, scale, and measurable impact make it a standout initiative within the industry.

Lexington was delighted to be the only contract caterer recognised among high street leaders – a testament to the incredible work of their teams!

Congratulations to the Green Force Team and to all of the winners of the 2025 Restaurant Marketer and Innovator Awards!
