

Planon achieves EcoVadis Platinum, cementing its leadership in sustainability

6 months ago

Planon has announced it has earned the prestigious EcoVadis Platinum Medal, placing the company among the top 1% of organisations worldwide for sustainability performance. This landmark achievement underscores Planon's unwavering commitment to environmental excellence, ethical business practices, and innovative sustainability measures.

Across all four EcoVadis themes – Environment, Labour & Human Rights, Ethics, and Sustainable Procurement – Planon demonstrated robust policies, advanced certifications, and comprehensive transparency. Planon's score of 88/100 in the Environment category highlights its leadership in environmental stewardship.

'This recognition is a testament to the progress we've made in embedding sustainability into every aspect of our operations,' said Peter Ankerstjerne, CEO of Planon. 'Advancing directly from Silver to Platinum status, with a 15-point improvement in our overall score, reflects the dedication and collaboration of our entire organisation.'

'As our customers and stakeholders increasingly prioritise sustainability, this milestone underscores Planon's dual commitment to sustainability – both within our own operations and through empowering our customers to achieve their ESG goals by using the Planon solutions,' added Ankerstjerne. 'We are dedicated to raising the bar for sustainability performance, fostering accountability and collective progress across our value chain.'

Planon's solutions seamlessly integrate all aspects of real estate and facilities management while enabling data-driven decision making for decarbonisation strategies and ESG compliance. By leveraging Planon's
