

Planon appoints Klaas Bosma as Chief Operations Officer for Planon Real Estate

10 months ago

Building on its strategic focus in commercial real estate and property management, Planon announces the appointment of Klaas Bosma as Chief Operations Officer (COO) for its Planon Real Estate business line.

This move reinforces Planon's commitment to further integrating and scaling its comprehensive real estate software solutions to create an ecosystem tailored to the evolving needs of real estate owners, investors, and developers across Europe.

'The demand for an end-to-end software solution that supports the specific needs of European real estate developers, investors, and owners continues to grow,' said Peter Ankerstjerne, CEO of Planon. 'With Klaas' proven leadership and expertise, we are strengthening our ability to deliver an advanced SaaS platform – integrating the capabilities of subsidiaries Reasult, COOR, and control IT – that not only addresses today's industry challenges but also helps future-proof our clients' operations and portfolios.'

Klaas Bosma, MRE MRICS, brings a wealth of experience in driving digital transformation within the real estate sector. During his seven years at Planon subsidiary Reasult, he held roles of increasing responsibility, including Managing Director. Prior to that, Klaas excelled in strategic advisory roles at prominent firms such as CBRE and Twynstra Gudde. His focus will be on deepening the integration of Planon's diverse technological offerings, delivering innovative solutions that enhance efficiency, performance, and sustainability for clients.