

PTSG provides protection for Battersea development

11 months ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\) has been contracted to deliver specialist electrical services at York Place – a redeveloped public realm located in south-west London.

Located in Battersea, York Place will become a significant public amenity, hosting the headquarters of the Royal Academy of Dance (RAD), as well as a public promenade and new, modern homes.

The previously redundant brownfield site is being transformed onto a new and exciting destination for south-west London. By collaborating with local authorities, developers, the housing association and design teams, this project is bringing together communities and transforming York Road into a space that all generations can enjoy.

In this contract, engineers from PTSG Electrical Services Ltd will deliver a new lightning protection system to safeguard the buildings and their users of the new development in the event of an electrical storm.

PTSG's specialists carry out routine testing and inspection of systems to ensure compliance with regulations. Their meticulous record-keeping ensures customers remain compliant year-round.
