

Tilbury Douglas launches its ESG Strategy

10 months ago

Tilbury Douglas, a leading UK building, infrastructure, engineering and fit-out business, has launched its new Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Strategy.

This follows on from its successful People, Planet, Performance (PPP) model, which was launched in late 2021, which laid a strong foundation for responsible business. The new ESG Strategy offers a more structured, targeted framework that connects its core business strategies across all departments.

Lucy Davies, ESG Director at Tilbury Douglas, commented: “As the requirement to manage climate, regulatory, and social risks increases, we are pleased to launch our ESG Strategy, which builds on from PPP. This not only reaffirms our commitment to doing what’s right for our people, clients, and communities, but it also enables us to create, deliver, measure, and report on lasting positive impacts.”

Tilbury Douglas’ ESG Strategy sets out clear targets and ambitions for the short and longer-term. These can be found here.

Craig Tatton, Chief Executive Officer at Tilbury Douglas, said: “This new focused approach supports our journey to net zero and fosters meaningful partnerships with our clients and supply chain, reflecting our proactive stance in managing our impact on society, the environment, and all our stakeholders.”

Find out more about what ESG means to Tilbury Douglas here.