

Atlas Workplace Services appoints new Managing Director as part of growth-focused plans

1 year ago

Atlas Workplace Services has announced Karen O'Neill as its new Managing Director. Karen steps into the role following eight successful years as Commercial and Finance Director, bringing with her deep expertise, a passion for excellence, and a strong track record of delivering value for clients.

Atlas Workplace Services specialises in total facilities management and engineering maintenance services. Late last year, it became an Employee Ownership Trust alongside other parts of the Atlas group. Now, the business is poised to accelerate its growth and strengthen its reputation for service excellence.

The appointment is part of a broader strategy to build on the strong foundations of the business and unlock new opportunities. To support this mission, Stuart Cook and Chris Tighe have also been promoted to executive roles, leading on operations and compliance, and business development respectively. Both have been important to the recent success of the business and will work closely with Karen to drive innovation, enhance efficiency, and concentrate on customer satisfaction across the Workplace Services portfolio.

Karen O'Neill, Managing Director of Atlas Workplace Services, commented: "It is an honour to take on this role in a business I care deeply about. I am proud to have such a talented team behind me, including Stuart and Chris. We are part of an Atlas group that is growing with purpose and with ever-expanding service capabilities. Together, we will build on our strengths, challenge ourselves to keep improving, and ensure Atlas Workplace Services continues to be known for outstanding services and trusted partnerships."

Chris Wisely, Atlas Group CEO, said: "I am pleased to have appointed Karen to this role, which is richly deserved. Since joining us, Karen has helped us to foster a customer-centric approach and in turn win business with clients across the UK. Her expertise, commitment to our customers and vision for the future make her ideally suited to lead this next stage of the Atlas Workplace Services journey as we continue to create happiness for our people and customers."