

New contract win with Kildare Village

1 year ago

Bidvest Noonan has been awarded a contract to supply cleaning services at the Kildare Village retail centre in County Kildare, Ireland.

Part of The Bicester Collection, the open-air shopping destination Kildare Village comprises 125 high-end boutiques, including Irish and international fashion brands such as Armani, Louise Kennedy and Mulberry, and attracts at least four million visitors annually.

David Barker, chief growth officer at Bidvest Noonan, said: “Kildare Village is an exceptional retail destination. We are proud to support them and look forward to delivering outstanding results, helping them achieve their sustainability goals, and ensuring an environment that captivates all who visit. This win demonstrates our position as a market leader.”
