Chris Achillea, HSEQ Director Sodexo UK & Ireland said: "The health and safety of all our colleagues, customers and partners is an intrinsic part of our culture, these awards demonstrate how our teams are putting this into practice with positive work being done and tangible and demonstrable impact being evidenced every day. We are proud of our teams who every day through their unwavering commitment are helping us achieve our Zero Harm mindset ambition."

Sponsored by the National Examination Board in Occupational Safety and Health (NEBOSH), the RoSPA Awards scheme is the longest-running of its kind in the UK, and receives entries from organisations across the globe, making it one of the most sought-after achievement awards for the health and safety industry.

Dee Arp, NEBOSH Chief Quality Officer and the Head Judge of the RoSPA Awards, said: "NEBOSH is delighted to be the headline sponsor of the RoSPA Awards. Recognising excellence in health and safety is essential to ensure we celebrate achievement, but it is also about reinforcing a culture of care, accountability and continuous improvement. These awards serve as a powerful reminder that employee safety and wellbeing transcends borders and looking after our people, so they can go home safe, healthy and happy every day, also drives sustainable success and resilience."
