

Tomorrow Meets Today 2025 is seeking nominations for leaders and future leaders

7 months ago

Now in its tenth year, Tomorrow Meets Today is back for 2025. To date Tomorrow Meets Today has helped connect over 250 people across 100 different organisations and remains FM's only exclusive networking evening specifically focused on promoting diversity, inclusion and equity strategy.

Sponsored by Pareto FM, the event will be held at Zoom's incredible London Experience Hub, Holborn on 13th November 2025. The evening will include a unique experience whereby the 'tomorrow people' will get exclusive access to network with the wide-ranging leadership group. The evening will include speed networking, talks from industry leaders and discussion over drinks. Plus three people will be inducted into the Tomorrow Meets Today Hall of Fame.

The event for 2025, is again, specifically focused on ESG Experience and each of the leaders will be chosen as pioneers in a certain field. From ED&I champions to neurodiverse leadership through to those experienced in mental health to veteran representation. The senior group is uniquely placed to offer advice, like no other group seen in FM.

This free programme is now seeking nominations for leaders and future leaders to join. They can be from any organisation both within and outside of facilities management. We are limited to only 40 participants.

To nominate yourself or someone else takes just 30 seconds, please visit <https://www.paretofm.com/tmt>

Nominations will close on 31st May 2025.
