

Sodexo Ireland wins Company of the Year at 2025 Chambers Ireland InBUSINESS Recognition Awards

2 months ago

Sodexo Ireland is celebrating winning Company of the Year at the 2025 Chambers Ireland InBUSINESS Recognition Awards, awards which span all industries and sectors in Ireland. This accolade comes off the back of triumphing at the Facilities Management Awards in March this year, where Sodexo Ireland was crowned with Overall Excellence in Facilities Management.

Now in its 13th year, the InBUSINESS Recognition Awards celebrate outstanding achievements across the Irish business community. The Company of the Year award is the programme's highest honour among this year's 26 categories, and celebrates a standout business that exemplifies excellence, innovation, and sustained growth.

The award honours an organisation that has shown strong leadership, a commitment to exceptional customer experience, and a positive impact on both its industry and community. Recognising resilience, strategic vision, and responsible business practices, Sodexo Ireland was acknowledged as a company that not only delivers strong commercial results but also sets the benchmark for corporate excellence in Ireland. It is a prestigious accolade for those who consistently strive to lead and inspire at a national level.

David Fox, Managing Director, Sodexo Ireland, said: "It's a true honour to be named Company of the Year by Chambers Ireland, especially within a thriving Irish economy. Our approach to experience led workplace dining and facilities management services has built trust with our clients, created tangible growth opportunities and ensured development pathways for our people and all whilst making a positive social impact in relation to sustainability and the communities in which we work. This award is a tribute to the incredible people behind our success, a reflection of the commitment, integrity, and passion our colleagues bring to work every day.”

The award judges said: “Sodexo is known for delivering exceptional service with a strong focus on sustainability, employee wellbeing and innovation. Sodexo consistently raises the bar in operational excellence and client satisfaction with a people first culture fostering inclusivity, professional development and high retention. Their commitment to community impact reflects responsible corporate citizenship and in a constantly evolving industry its agility and results driven approach makes its a stand out performer and makes it a truly deserving winner of the Company of the Year 2025.”

Sodexo Ireland is part of the global Sodexo Group, a world leader in in sustainable food and workplace experiences at every moment in life. Sodexo works with clients in business and industry, education, financial, pharma/medtech and healthcare. Services include workplace dining, facilities management and project management.