

AEMT Shines a Spotlight on Engineering Excellence Once More

3 hours ago

With the deadline fast approaching, the Association of Electrical & Mechanical Trades (AEMT) is reminding organisations and individuals across the electro-mechanical sector to submit their entries for the 2025 AEMT Awards before time runs out. The final date for submissions is Friday 22nd August, and all are encouraged to put forward their achievements in what is a particularly significant year—the 80th Anniversary of the AEMT.

Celebrating innovation, service excellence, and technical expertise, the AEMT Awards recognise the very best in the electrical and mechanical repair, service, and manufacturing sector. Now in its ninth year, this prestigious awards programme continues to honour those who drive the industry forward through exceptional standards and meaningful contributions.

The 2025 AEMT Awards Ceremony will take place on the evening of 20th November at the Doubletree by Hilton Hotel, Coventry, bringing together professionals from across the sector for an evening of celebration, networking, and recognition. With several returning categories and a few new additions, this year's event promises to be the most exciting to date.

Award Categories:

- Product of the Year
- Project of the Year
- Service Centre of the Year
- Supplier of the Year
- Contribution to Skills & Training Award
- Rising Star Award

- Diversity in Engineering Award
- Sustainable Organisation of the Year
- Special Recognition Award

Entries can be submitted online via the AEMT Awards website at www.aemtawards.com. The awards are open to all who operate within the electro-mechanical sector and offer a unique opportunity to showcase success in areas such as sustainability, skills development, innovation, and outstanding service delivery.

Submissions will be reviewed by a panel of independent industry experts, ensuring a fair and transparent judging process. Winners will be announced at the black-tie awards dinner, a standout occasion in the industry calendar.

Thomas Marks, Secretary and General Manager at the AEMT, said: “The AEMT Awards are a highlight of the industry calendar, offering a platform to recognise those who go above and beyond in engineering excellence, innovation, and service delivery. We are excited to welcome entries for 2025 and look forward to another memorable night celebrating our industry’s best.”

For those who have not yet secured their place at the gala evening, now is the time to do so. Tickets are available to book via the AEMT Awards website, with demand expected to be high given the special anniversary celebration.

The AEMT Awards are made possible thanks to the generous support of sponsors, including Drives & Controls, EMiR Software, Hayley Dexis, Innomotics, Megger, Menzel, Plant & Works Engineering, Renew, Sulzer, TEC Motors, and WEG. Several sponsorship opportunities remain available for companies looking to align their brand with excellence in the electro-mechanical sector.

For further details on how to enter, book your place, or become a sponsor, visit www.aemtawards.com.