

PTSG secures contract with environmental engineering specialist

1 week ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\), through its constituent company Trinity Fire & Security Systems (Trinity), has been awarded a new contract to deliver specialist fire and security services for a leading building services and environmental engineering provider.

The Surrey-headquartered client, established in 1991 by two experienced engineers, has built its reputation on customer-focused hard FM services across London and the South East. The business has grown steadily over the past three decades, retaining many long-term clients thanks to its strong service ethos.

As part of the agreement, Trinity engineers will be responsible for installing and maintaining fire and security systems, ensuring the ongoing safety of the company's premises and building users.

Trinity is the largest component company within PTSG Fire Solutions Ltd, the biggest of PTSG's five divisions. Its nationwide teams deliver a full spectrum of specialist services, including:

- Fire detection and life safety systems
- Fire risk assessments
- Security systems
- Kitchen fire suppression systems

Earlier this year, Trinity also launched the MPF Portable Fire Extinguisher – a ground-breaking solution capable of tackling all common fire types, including Lithium-ion battery fires. The extinguisher is the only product of its kind that meets BAFE requirements, is recognised by insurers, and has the backing of Sedex, BSI and NTA.

This latest contract reflects Trinity's continued success in partnering with businesses across the UK to deliver innovative, compliant and industry-leading fire safety solutions.
