

PTSG Strengthens Leadership with Appointment of Mark Mitchell as Managing Director of Electrical Services

10 months ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd (PTSG), the UK's leading provider of specialist services to the construction and facilities management sectors, has appointed Mark Mitchell as Managing Director of its Electrical Services division.

Mark joins PTSG with an impressive track record spanning more than two decades in the FM and technical services sectors. Most recently, he served as Operations Director at Mitie, where he led multiple large business units. He is widely recognised for his ability to deliver cultural transformation, operational improvements and sustained revenue growth. His career achievements include doubling the turnover of Mitie Fire & Security over a three-year period, successfully merging business units post-acquisition and leading critical compliance services nationwide.

PTSG Electrical Services is a cornerstone of the Group, delivering essential compliance, testing and maintenance services to clients across the UK. The division's work helps ensure that thousands of buildings remain safe and legally compliant, supporting both the public and private sectors in fulfilling their duty of care. It is also home to the UK's largest lightning protection business.

In his new role, Mark will oversee all aspects of the division, including strategy, financial performance, team development and stakeholder engagement. He will be responsible for embedding best practice, strengthening customer partnerships and driving sustainable growth.

Greg Ward, CEO of PTSG, said: "Mark's appointment marks a significant step forward for our Electrical Services division. His proven leadership, extensive sector knowledge and focus on operational excellence will help us deliver even greater value to our customers as we continue our growth journey.”

PTSG looks forward to working with Mark to further strengthen this vital part of the business.

If your organisation is looking for a trusted partner to deliver market-leading electrical compliance, testing and maintenance services, we'd be delighted to hear from you. Contact PTSG Electrical Services today to discover how our expertise can help keep your buildings safe, compliant and performing at their best.