

SBFM wins three-year contract with exclusive office provider, Argyll

16 hours ago

SBFM has won a three-year contract with Argyll, an exclusive London office provider. SBFM will provide approximately 190 employees and full cleaning services across Argyll's 25 London office locations.

Argyll offers exclusive work environments across prime locations in Central London, including several Grade II-listed buildings. It has private offices, coworking spaces, virtual office services, meeting rooms, and event spaces that require high-quality cleaning. SBFM's highly skilled operatives will be selected to work across these sites to help deliver its exceptional service standards.

SBFM's services will provide premium-quality cleaning for these locations, including window cleaning, floor polishing and carpet cleaning. Core cleaning will occur out of hours so the office spaces are uninterrupted, and janitorial support will be offered throughout the day. SBFM will also be on hand for any reactive cleaning needs.

SBFM won the contract due to its innovative technologies, including its mobile-optimised employee platform, streamlined client portal and flexible cover support solutions.

Matt Chapman, CEO at SBFM, said: "We're thrilled to partner with Argyll and deliver our high-quality services across their locations. This contract win reflects the strength of our technology-led approach and our operatives' dedication to every space we service. We look forward to upkeeping Argyll's immaculate workspaces to align with its premium standards."

Sarah Moulton, People Director at Argyll, said: "We're proud of the exceptional service we provide our customers, and cleanliness plays a vital role in creating our signature Argyll experience. We've chosen SBFM for their expertise, trusted reputation, and proven ability to deliver consistent, top-tier cleaning services across complex portfolios like ours.”
