Datore, the UK's leading provider of Analytics as a Service (AaaS) for the facilities management sector, has been shortlisted as a finalist in the Best SME/Start-Up Led Innovation category at the IWFM Awards 2025.

The IWFM Awards are widely recognised as the benchmark for excellence within workplace and facilities management, celebrating organisations and individuals that drive positive change across the industry.

Datore's finalist position reflects its pioneering work in helping FM providers harness their data more effectively – transforming disparate information into actionable insights that unlock efficiencies, improve service delivery, and win competitive tenders.

David Leslie, Head of Revenue at Datore, said: "We're delighted to be recognised by the IWFM Awards. Facilities providers are under huge pressure to deliver more value with fewer resources, making innovation critical. At Datore, we've proven that when FM organisations put analytics at the heart of their operations, they can deliver measurable impact for both clients and employees."

The winners will be announced at the IWFM Awards ceremony on the 9th of October 2025.
