4 months ago

Elior UK, the official catering and hospitality partner for Scottish Gas Murrayfield, marked two historic weeks of music, food, and fan experiences with three Oasis concerts and one night of AC/DC.

Over three nights, Oasis Live 2025 drew more than 200,000 fans to the home of Scottish Rugby, with over 7,000 hospitality guests enjoying The Murrayfield Experience. All tickets for the concerts and hospitality sold out instantly.

From the Champagne Supernova Suite's rock 'n' roll elegance to the Britpop House Party's electric festival atmosphere, each themed space immersed guests in the world of Oasis and the Manchester music scene.

Hospitality highlights for the Oasis concerts included:

- Champagne Supernova Suite – named after one of Oasis's most celebrated anthems, the suite was draped in black and gold and served up a Champagne reception, three-course dining experience, and live music to set the pre-show vibe.
- The Hacienda Club – a homage to the legendary Manchester nightclub offered free-flowing buffet stations including Manc Burgers and food inspired by Manchester's Curry Mile.
- Britpop House Party – a festival-style stretch tent brought 1,000 guests together for a pre-gig celebration, blending the spirit of Oasis's live shows with great food and drink.

Across the stadium campus, over 80 food and drink outlets kept fans fuelled with a mix of Scottish classics, global street food, Laurent-Perrier Champagne, MOTH canned cocktails, sizzling gyros, smoky BBQ, loaded fries, vegan bites, and sweet churros. Over 1,000 Elinor UK colleagues each day served over 7,000 meals, featuring locally sourced produce, and sold a record-breaking number of drinks.

Scottish Gas Murrayfield roared again when AC/DC brought their high-voltage rock show to Edinburgh, with around 2,000 hospitality guests enjoying themed menus and décor inspired by the band's legendary catalogue. Highlights included 'Down Under Doughnuts,' 'Bush Burgers,' 'Whole Lotta Rosie' desserts and live electric guitar performances.

Craig Stewart, Managing Director for Stadia, Concessions & Universities at Elinor UK, said: "The last few weeks have welcomed unforgettable performances, and hospitality experiences that matched the energy on stage. Our team delivered delicious and enticing food and drink and collaborated closely with Scottish Rugby to create a truly memorable experience from when the doors opened to the final encore."
