

PTSG specialists carry out chimney demolition at CSG flagship site

4 months ago

A team from Pendrich Height Services, part of Premier Technical Services Group Ltd (PTSG), has been appointed to carry out chimney demolition works at CSG's flagship waste processing facility in Cadishead, located between Manchester and Warrington.

CSG is one of the UK's leading waste management companies, supporting both households and organisations nationwide with services including collection, treatment, recovery and disposal across a wide range of waste streams.

Pendrich's high-level specialists are undertaking the systematic demolition of a chimney at the Cadishead site, using a combination of rope access and traditional stepladder techniques.

Founded as a company specialising in the maintenance of church steeples and industrial chimneys, Pendrich has grown into a market leader in high-level maintenance. Today, its teams operate worldwide, delivering projects on chimney stacks, cooling towers, flare stacks and other complex structures.

Pendrich operates within PTSG Building Access Specialist Ltd, which provides a full range of specialist maintenance and cleaning services for structures across the built environment.
