

SHW adds to its Property Management team

9 months ago

SHW has further strengthened its Property Management team with four new appointments.

Richard Cohen has been appointed as Associate within SHW's London Commercial Property Management team. Richard joins from JLL where he was Contract Manager within the Property & Asset Management department, responsible for managing a diverse portfolio of industrial, mixed-use, office, and retail assets across the UK.

Angela O'Shea has been appointed as an Associate in SHW's Property Management team, with a focus on delivering operational efficiency, enhancing client satisfaction, and safeguarding asset value across her client portfolio, along with strengthening and expanding SHW's South West London and South London residential Property Management services. Joining alongside Angela is Property Manager Lilly Weeden-Borg who will be supporting this expansion.

In the fourth appointment this summer, Keith Yim has joined as Senior Property Manager in SHW's Commercial Property Management team. Keith will be managing commercial property portfolios on behalf of clients across London and the South East.

Adrian Dack, Partner and Head of Property Management at SHW, says: "We are delighted to welcome Richard, Angela, Lilly and Keith on board our busy Management team. These appointments follow the joining of Ayla Can as Senior Property Manager and Andy Mee as Regional Facilities Manager earlier this year to support the growth of our property management services covering residential and commercial assets across the South East."
