

Empower Technical Services Strengthens Leadership Team with New COO

4 months ago

Empower Technical Services is pleased to announce the appointment of Adam Hodson as Chief Operating Officer (COO), further reinforcing the company's strategic leadership team as it enters its next phase of growth.

Adam joins Empower Technical Services with an impressive track record in business integration, change management, and operational leadership. Most recently serving as Operations Director at Compass Group PLC, Adam has overseen large scale business integration projects, driven operational efficiency, and led diverse work streams across finance, engineering, administration, and technology. His earlier leadership roles include Managing Director, where he spearheaded a successful merger, and senior operational positions. Adam's strong financial acumen, client relationship expertise, and proven ability to deliver results will play a pivotal role in scaling Empower Technical Services' operations.

Nick Manning, CEO of Empower, commented: "We are delighted to welcome Adam to the Empower leadership team. Adam's strategic operational expertise will be crucial in driving our growth and embedding operational excellence across the businesses we welcome aboard. His deep industry expertise will enable us to run even faster whilst ensuring our people remain at the heart of our success."

The appointments mark an important milestone for Empower Technical Services as the company continues to expand its market presence and deliver technical excellence to clients nationwide.
