

Houston & Hawkes appointed catering partner to leading law firm Stewarts

6 months ago

Houston & Hawkes, the independent, B Corp certified contract caterer, has been appointed to provide workplace dining services for Stewarts, the UK's largest litigation-only law firm, as it expands and transforms its London office space.

The five-year contract will see Houston & Hawkes serve more than 450 employees across a staff café, fine dining, hospitality, events and reception services, offering food menus built around fresh, seasonal ingredients and Great British produce.

Stewarts selected Houston & Hawkes for its chef-led approach, commitment to local producers and strong responsible business credentials. The caterer's B Corp certification and focus on high-quality, nutritious food reflect Stewarts' own commitment to the health and engagement of its people.

Dave Hawkes, Director at Houston & Hawkes, said: "We're thrilled to be partnering with such a prestigious firm. Stewarts shares our belief that great food plays a vital role in supporting healthy, connected teams and creating a workplace people enjoy being part of. We can't wait to bring our delicious food to their team."

Stuart Dench, Managing Partner at Stewarts, said: "We're delighted to welcome Houston & Hawkes as our new catering partner. Their focus on quality, provenance and responsible sourcing aligns closely with our values. Creating a compelling workplace proposition for our people is a key priority, and we're confident the food and service they provide will contribute meaningfully to that."
