

PTSG to deliver specialist services for Stork UK

6 months ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd (PTSG) has secured a new contract through its constituent company HCS to provide specialist water treatment services for Stork UK at its Falkirk facility.

Stork UK, headquartered in Aberdeen, operates from multiple bases across the UK including Falkirk, Grimsby, Southport and Teesside. The business delivers a broad portfolio of solutions – from heat treatment under its Cooperheat brand to quality, integrity and industrial services, mechanical support, and plant and equipment rental.

With a strong track record across both offshore and onshore environments, Stork UK is recognised for its technical expertise and innovative technologies that help clients overcome daily operational challenges. The company also places significant emphasis on collaboration, working closely with customers to achieve safe and dependable project outcomes.

Under the new agreement, HCS engineers will provide a range of water treatment and hygiene services to support Stork UK's operations.

PTSG Water Treatment Ltd brings together highly trained specialists and advanced technology to deliver consistent, high-performance results in water safety, Legionella prevention and a wide spectrum of decontamination requirements. The business is a trusted partner for organisations seeking robust compliance and asset protection in complex environments.

PTSG is an accredited member of the Legionella Control Association (LCA) and operates an integrated Quality Management System certified to ISO 9001, ISO 14001 and ISO 45001. The Group also holds Constructionline approval and accreditations with the Source Testing Association (STA), SafeContractor,

