

Corps Security secures three-year contract with Neovia Logistics

6 months ago

Specialist security service provider Corps Security has secured a three-year contract with contract logistics provider Neovia Logistics following a competitive tender process. Ten Corps officers will provide estate security, guarding, site support and searching services at the company's distribution centre near Milton Keynes.

Under the contract, Corps will provide comprehensive security services for Neovia Logistics, which operates in a highly regulated environment requiring stringent security protocols to meet accreditation requirements on behalf of its clients. The contract will expand the site's security provision to cover multiple access points across the site with a dedicated site cover team.

Neovia Logistics selected Corps Security for its strong account management structure and rollout plan proposed at the tender stage, clear regional support strategy, and its strong accessibility compliance. Neovia Logistics was also impressed by Corps' ESG and DEI commitments and comprehensive operational protocols that aligned with the site's specific needs.

Mark Williams, Site Support Manager at Neovia Logistics, said: "Security is paramount in our highly regulated operations. We were impressed by Corps Security's comprehensive understanding of our needs and cost-effective approach. We are confident that we have selected the right partner to deliver the services our site requires."

Dale Johnson, Regional Manager at Corps Security, said: "We are delighted to partner with Neovia Logistics to enhance its site security. This contract demonstrates our ability to adapt and meet the complex needs of highly regulated logistics environments, and we look forward to supporting Neovia Logistics' complex operations."
