

New Recruits Boost Qvantum UK

4 months ago

Heat pump manufacturer Qvantum UK has further strengthened its team with four new appointments.

Carla Cameron joins as UK Marketing Manager and brings more than 27 years of B2B experience, most recently as Marketing Services Manager at Mitsubishi Electric Living Environmental Systems.

She said: "I am excited to join a company that's genuinely pushing the industry forward with innovative, sustainable heat pump solutions. I'm passionate about making advanced technology easy to understand and engaging for our customers, and I look forward to contributing to Qvantum's growth as we continue expanding across the UK."

Dan Gentle is appointed Consultant Account Manager for London and the Midlands, working with architects, consultants and developers. He has more than 20 years of HVAC experience, joining the sector in 2005 as an apprentice engineer and going on to establish a group of mechanical services companies before working in product sales and specification for leading manufacturers.

He said: "I am proud of our industry and the impact we have towards decarbonising the cities and towns we live in. Qvantum is leading this drive by providing an unparalleled product offering to Europe and the UK."

New Sales Support Manager Manishka Hart brings over seven years of operational experience in procurement and business planning within the HVAC industry. She will work with Qvantum's distribution network to ensure the efficient supply of heat pumps and spare parts. She will also collaborate with colleagues in Sweden to maintain optimal stock levels and support the UK sales team with product updates and sales operations.

She said: "Qvantum is rightly proud of the outstanding support it offers to its customers, and I am delighted to be part of a team committed to delivering the best possible service at all times.”

Louis Jackson has earned a full-time Sales Support Executive role following a successful spell as an intern. His initial focus will be on driving efficiency and growth through smart CRM management.

He said: “I’m thrilled to be part of a company that’s pushing the industry forward with innovative heat pump solutions. My role is about using technology to simplify processes and create value for our customers, and I look forward to helping Qvantum grow its presence and impact.”

Phil Ord, CEO at Qvantum UK, said: “It’s great to welcome the latest additions to the team. Our products can help bring fossil-free heating to every home and by interacting with the grid we can help balance the entire energy system. These may seem ambitious targets, but Qvantum was created to do things differently and our new colleagues are here help us reach those goals.”
