

Apleona Further Expands its Market Position as an Integrated Facility Manager in the United Kingdom

2 months ago

Apleona has acquired Morrison Facilities Services, which has approx. 300 specialists working across six locations in Scotland and England. This acquisition will further enhance public sector capabilities as well as local presence.

This is Apleona's fourth acquisition in the UK in three years, further strengthening its position in the market as a technical and integrated facility manager with a high share of self-delivered services. The company announced the acquisition of Morrison Facilities Services (Morrison) today.

Established for over three decades, Morrison is based in Livingston and employs approx. 300 people. The company provides technical and integrated facility services across Scotland and in the south of England, mainly focusing on public sector clients such as schools, universities and healthcare facilities.

Apleona UK employs more than 2,000 people and is one of the UK's leading integrated FM service providers with a high self-delivery share and a large number of industrial customers in the public, pharmaceutical, manufacturing, and retail sectors. By acquiring Morrison Facilities Services, Apleona is further strengthening its market position in UK and building credible and demonstrable capability.

Michael Engel, Apleona's COO, comments: "This step further strengthens Apleona's regional presence in Scotland and England within our core competencies of technical and integrated facility management. It also highlights our ambition to become a market leader in the United Kingdom."

Ray Casey, Regional Head for Northern Europe, adds: "We are delighted to welcome Morrison Facilities Services to Apleona UK, whose expertise and regional coverage complements our business in the UK perfectly. Leveraging the experience and expertise gained from our previous successful integrations, we are committed to ensuring a smooth transition and delivering sustainable growth.”

Adrian Connor, Managing Director of Apleona UK (pictured), comments: “We are ensuring a smooth transition and warmly welcome our new colleagues from Morrison. We are confident that we can continue to develop and grow this side of business and look forward to getting started!”

Kevin Woodcock, Managing Director of Morrison Facilities Services: “Morrison Facilities Services is delighted to join Apleona and now belong to a group that focuses exclusively on technical and integrated facility management. Together we will have the ability to further enhance our service delivery and expand our client portfolio, ensuring strong organic growth.”