

AGS Airports Appoints Bidvest Noonan for Cleaning Services Contract

19 hours ago

Building on its strong momentum in the transport sector, Bidvest Noonan, a leading provider of FM services across the UK and Ireland, has secured a new contract to deliver comprehensive cleaning services across AGS Airports Limited's three UK locations: Aberdeen, Glasgow and Southampton airports.

The contract will see a dedicated on-site team of cleaning professionals deployed across the three airports, which together serve more than 10 million passengers annually. These vital transport hubs connect passengers to destinations across the UK, Europe and beyond, playing a crucial role in supporting business and leisure travel.

Under the agreement, Bidvest Noonan will deliver a modern and efficient service solution, providing comprehensive cleaning services to maintain high standards of cleanliness and presentation across all three locations.

This contract win reflects Bidvest Noonan's proven expertise in managing complex, high-footfall environments and further strengthens its position within the aviation sector. The company has built significant strengths in the transport sector, with a strong track record of supporting major transport hubs across the UK and Ireland, where operational excellence, consistency and service quality are critical to maintaining seamless passenger experiences.

Working in close partnership with AGS, Bidvest Noonan will deliver services that support the day-to-day operational needs of airport teams whilst enhancing the overall airport environment and passenger experience. Central to the partnership is a shared commitment to sustainability and employee welfare.

David Barker, Chief Growth Officer at Bidvest Noonan, said: "We are delighted to have been selected by AGS to support three airports that serve as key gateways for millions of passengers travelling across the UK, Europe and beyond. Our experience managing complex, high-footfall transport environments means we understand the unique demands of the aviation sector, where consistency and quality must be maintained around the clock. We will be bringing a tailored approach to AGS, combining well-trained, dedicated teams with smart service delivery to ensure passengers and staff experience the highest standards every day.”

Keith Middleton, Managing Director at Bidvest Noonan, added: “We are looking forward to working closely with AGS and all our new colleagues to support these airports in delivering excellent passenger experiences. Our team is committed to maintaining the high standards that passengers and airport staff expect, and we are excited to play our part in the smooth operation of these vital transport hubs.”

Ronald Leitch, Chief Operating Officer at AGS Airports, said: “We are pleased to welcome Bidvest Noonan as our new cleaning services partner across Aberdeen, Glasgow and Southampton airports.

Throughout the tender process, Bidvest Noonan demonstrated a strong and genuine commitment to raising the quality of service across our airports. Their investment in enhanced training, innovative cleaning approaches and robust service quality measures gives us confidence that they will deliver the standards our customers and teams expect every day.

Ensuring our airports are clean, safe and welcoming is essential to the passenger experience and Bidvest Noonan’s dedication to high standards makes them an excellent fit for our business.

We look forward to working together to support our teams and maintain the environment our passengers and airline partners expect.”
