

PTSG Accelerates Fire Solutions Strategy with Acquisition of BDS Group Limited

3 hours ago

Premier Technical Services Group Ltd \(PTSG\), a leading provider of niche specialist services to the construction and facilities management sectors, today announces the acquisition of BDS Group Limited (BDSG), a high-quality provider of fire safety engineering and electrical compliance services operating across the UK.

The acquisition further strengthens PTSG's market-leading Fire Solutions division and adds significant scale, technical capability and recurring compliance-led workstreams to the Group's expanding portfolio of essential specialist services businesses.

Headquartered in Wallington, South London, BDSG comprises Bespoke Detection Services Limited (BDS) and BDS Electrical FM Limited (BDSE). The businesses provide testing, inspection, planned preventative maintenance, repair and specialist electrical services to a long-standing customer base operating across commercial, industrial and infrastructure environments nationwide.

BDSG has developed a particularly strong position within fire detection and compliance services, supported by high customer retention levels, long-duration customer relationships and a substantial base of recurring maintenance and testing activity driven by regulatory and safety-critical requirements.

The business has also established a long-standing Tier 1 supplier relationship with a world leading motor industry brand across the UK, reflecting its technical expertise, operational reliability and consistent service delivery over more than two decades.

Importantly, the business will continue to be led by its existing senior management team – Kevin Blyde, Mitchell Blyde and Anthony Watts – who will remain with the business following completion, ensuring continuity of leadership, customer relationships and operational expertise.

Paul Teasdale, PTSG's Co-founder and Executive Chairman led on the deal. He said: "This acquisition aligns closely with PTSG's strategy of acquiring high-quality specialist businesses operating in resilient, compliance-driven markets with strong cash generation characteristics and clear opportunities for long-term value creation. BDSG has demonstrated a consistent track record of profitability, strong operating margins and resilient cash conversion, underpinned by a predominantly recurring and repeatable revenue profile. The transaction also provides further critical mass within PTSG's Fire Solutions division and enhances the Group's ability to deliver integrated compliance services at scale across the UK. This deal reflects PTSG's disciplined approach to strategic M&A and our continued focus on building market-leading positions within essential compliance and safety-critical services."

Kevin Blyde, Founder and Group Managing Director of BDS Group Limited, said: "We are proud of the business we have built and the long-standing relationships we have developed with our customers, our people and our supply chain partners over the past 25 years. Joining PTSG provides an exciting opportunity to accelerate the next phase of growth for the business while maintaining the culture, technical standards and customer focus that have underpinned our success to date. PTSG's scale, sector expertise and strategic vision make the company the ideal long-term partner for BDSG and we are excited about the opportunities ahead."

Greg Ward, CEO at PTSG said: "BDSG is a highly complementary acquisition which strengthens our position within the fire detection and compliance market while adding further scale, engineering capability and recurring revenues to the Group. The business operates in resilient, regulation-led markets with strong fundamentals and has built an excellent reputation for technical delivery, customer service and operational reliability over many years. We are particularly pleased that Kevin, Mitchell and Anthony will continue to lead the business moving forward and I look forward to working closely with them and the rest of the BDSG team. It is clear that their sector expertise, customer relationships and highly experienced engineering team provide strong foundations for continued growth."

The acquisition continues PTSG's successful long-term strategy of investing in specialist compliance businesses operating within structurally attractive end markets characterised by increasing regulation, essential maintenance requirements and high barriers to entry.

BDSG will continue to operate from its South London headquarters following completion. For more information about PTSG's Fire Solutions division and specialist compliance services, please click here.
