

Houston & Hawkes Partners With B Corp-certified St. Ewe Free Range Eggs

2 hours ago

Independent B Corp caterer Houston & Hawkes has entered a partnership with St. Ewe Free Range Eggs, making the Cornwall-based brand its exclusive egg supplier.

The agreement means Houston & Hawkes will serve St. Ewe Eggs throughout its business, which spans 44 client sites across London and the South East, covering everything from daily staff dining to client hospitality.

St. Ewe Eggs is one of the UK's fastest-growing premium egg brands. Founded in 2007, the family-run business works with more than 30 farms across the South West, Wales and Northern Ireland, each meeting St. Ewe Eggs' high standards on animal welfare and nutrition. In 2025, it became the first egg packer in Europe to achieve B Corp certification, reflecting its commitment to hen welfare and sustainable food production.

The partnership reflects Houston & Hawkes' broader approach to procurement, prioritising independent British producers whose values align with its own. Houston & Hawkes, which recently retained its B Corp-certification, sources more than 95% of its ingredients from UK-based suppliers. Adding St. Ewe Eggs to that network reinforces a defining part of the business's identity: great food that is responsibly sourced.

Joe Adams, Supplier Partnerships Manager for Houston & Hawkes, said: "St. Ewe Eggs was a natural fit. As a fellow B Corp, they demonstrate a genuine commitment to responsible sourcing and supporting British farming communities. Now we can offer our customers a product with genuine provenance and a positive impact story. Our aim is to build a long-term partnership that reflects the direction of travel for our business, building meaningful relationships with suppliers who care."

Emilie Grundy, Marketing Director at St. Ewe Free Range Eggs, added: “Partnering with Houston & Hawkes is a fantastic opportunity to bring St. Ewe’s iconic Rich Yolk eggs from British family-run farms to even more people who value exceptional quality, provenance and responsible sourcing. As fellow B Corps, we share a commitment to doing business the right way – supporting British farming, championing high welfare standards and delivering great-tasting food with a positive impact.

“Houston & Hawkes is exactly the kind of partner we want to work with, and we’re incredibly proud to see St. Ewe eggs being delivered across their customer base. This partnership reflects the values both businesses stand for, and we’re excited about what we can achieve together.”
