

Latest FM Director is Out Now!

2 hours ago

The latest edition of our monthly magazine, FM Director, is available to read now. As ever, we've been busy putting together some exclusive interviews and features for you to enjoy in this issue.

Read here - https://issuu.com/fmbdmedia/docs/fm_director_july_2026

Our cover star this month is Kevin Walton, Managing Director of GIND UK and sister company Integral Cradles. In this piece he reflects on a decade of growth, award-winning service delivery and technical innovation, and explains why the next ten years promise to be even more ambitious.

In addition, Wendy Parsons, Account Manager at Vectair Systems, recently met our editor to discuss how the Covid pandemic permanently raised expectations around hygiene and occupant experience, why sustainability now shapes every conversation she has with customers, and what the next generation of air care and washroom technology looks like in practice.

We also speak to Adam Atkins from Coat Facilities about the challenges, changes and the creation of the company. And as if that wasn't enough, we also have features from PTSG, ISS and Skyform.

We really hope you enjoy this edition, and as always, if there is anything you'd like to discuss with the editor, please contact her at claire.middleton@businessdailygroup.co.uk.